

Pharaoh does not want
to let the Israelites go.

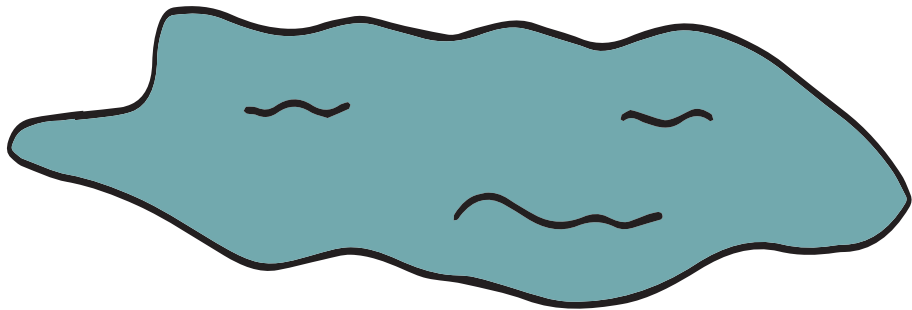

After many plagues,
Pharaoh tells them they can go.

Pharaoh decides to go after the Israelites and bring them back to Egypt.

Moses leads the people toward the Red Sea.

God tells Moses to stretch out
his rod over the Red Sea.

God causes the Red Sea to divide
so the Israelites can cross over on dry ground.

God lets Pharaoh's army
follow them into the sea.

God causes the Egyptian army
to have trouble and get confused.

God tells Moses to stretch out
his rod over the sea.

God causes the Red Sea to flow over the Egyptian army.

