LESSON:

This is a story from Acts 16 in the Bible. After Paul leaves the town of Antioch, he begins traveling with a man named Silas (1). Everywhere Paul and Silas go, people stop to listen to the Good News about Jesus. Some people become very angry at Paul and Silas for talking about Jesus and put them in jail (2). They put Paul and Silas deep inside the prison and chain them to the walls by their feet so they cannot get away (3). Soldiers stand and guard the jail to make sure they do not escape.

Paul and Silas pray and sing praises to God (4). Paul and Silas know God is with them and that God is powerful enough to save them. As they are singing, all of a sudden, there is a great earthquake (5)! God makes all of the doors come open and everyone's chains fall off (6)!

The prison guard wakes up and sees the doors open. He is afraid because he thinks Paul and Silas have run away (7). Paul calls out to him in a loud voice and says, "We are all here!" The prison guard calls for some light and rushes in to see that Paul and Silas have not run away (8).

The guard is shaking in fear, and he falls down in front of Paul and Silas. He asks them what he needs to do to be saved. Paul and Silas tell the guard and his whole family about believing in Jesus. They all believe in Jesus and are baptized (9). God changes the guard's heart and life. He becomes kind to Paul and Silas and washes their wounds and gives them something to eat (10).

Key Point: Only God can change our hearts and lives.
