Genesis 25:29-34

<sup>29</sup> One day when Jacob was cooking some stew, Esau arrived home from the wilderness exhausted and hungry. <sup>30</sup> Esau said to Jacob, “I’m starved! Give me some of that red stew!” (This is how Esau got his other name, Edom, which means “red.”)

<sup>31</sup> “All right,” Jacob replied, “but trade me your rights as the firstborn son.”

<sup>32</sup> “Look, I’m dying of starvation!” said Esau. “What good is my birthright to me now?”

<sup>33</sup> But Jacob said, “First you must swear that your birthright is mine.” So Esau swore an oath, thereby selling all his rights as the firstborn to his brother, Jacob.

<sup>34</sup> Then Jacob gave Esau some bread and lentil stew. Esau ate the meal, then got up and left. He showed contempt for his rights as the firstborn.
