

I Have a Choice

Situations

1. Your mom asks you to set the table but you don't feel like it, so you pretend like you didn't hear her.
2. You work on a project at school with a friend. You like your ideas better than your friend's and you just want to do it your way.
3. Your mom asks you to clean up for dinner. You immediately put a bookmark in your book and go wash your hands.
4. Your cabin leader asks you to stop drawing so you can focus on the lesson. You immediately put your crayon down and pay attention.
