

Role-play Situations

Read the situations and have one camper give you a grateful response and another camper give you an ungrateful response.

1. I am your grandmother and I give you a knitted green sweater with a brown duck on it for Christmas. What do you think about it?
2. I am your friend and, as a birthday present, I give you a movie that you don't really want. What do you think about it?
3. I am your teacher and I give you a pack of gum for helping me during recess when you could have gone outside to play. However, it's not a flavor you like. What do you think about it?
4. I am your mom (or dad) and I tell you that you must eat all of your dinner in order to have dessert. Dinner is chicken nuggets, peas, broccoli, and carrots. What do you think about it?